Lisa,
To a really sweet girl, I think I got to pretty good this year.
Sometimes you act and talk weird but you're always got that smile.
I think your super
and wish you luck
in Mississippi. "80"

Lisa,
I'm really glad we became better friends this year. I'm only sorry you'll be moving. You can always come up and visit, though, and if you find time, write - although I know you'll have loads of letters to return from everybody! Never forget all the fun in band and Drama Club. (Remember your wig!) I know you'll have lots of friends down in Miss., but I'll miss you! Good luck always to everything you'll do!

Hi Lisa,
To a super sweet person who is a really great person.
I'm glad I can call you my friend. Good luck in everything
you do. Don't forget
all the great times
we've had together.
Lots of love,
AFA Denise

PS - Don't think you'll never see me again after you move, because I plan
on haunting you forever!!

Lisa,
 To a really sweet girl I have known for a long time. I don't think it will ever be the same around here without your smiling face. I will never forget prom and all the fun we had. Good luck in the future and in everything you do. Maybe I can see you when you get money for graduation or if I ever get a job.
 Love,
 Jamie

Lisa,
 You are very smart and fun. Glad that we finally got a class together. We thought it was Mrs. Johnson. I will always remember that class. Now "unlearning" it was! Lisa, a very sweet and beautiful person. I just really got to know this year in Psych class. You've got a great personality and I'm sure you'll be a success in Mississippi! Good luck in everything you do. Keep in touch.
 Cheryl '90

Lisa,
 You've touched a place in my heart and I'll never forgive you for that. I'll always remember you. I no-matter where you go... you're someone I don't want to forget. Thanks for all the good times in C & F. They wouldn't be the same without you. I'll miss you Lisa.

Lisa,
I hope you're a friend of mine and
I think of me in that
Don't worry about moving away because I'm sure you'll have fun with all those new kids. Though we haven't seen all to much of each other touch! I would like it if we could stay in future. Take care of yourself and have fun in the future.

To Lisa

To
A wonderful friend you've been. I hope we can still ~~talk~~ tell me your problems after you go to Miss. You know you will have to write me all the time. I think I'm going to miss you more than anyone that's ever moved before.
I just think you're a wonderful &

Just to a real nice girl like met last summer, remember all of the fun times we've had during summer (summer you had at a party, summer) I'm sure you will make a lot of new friends, Paul P.S. Thanks for helping me get started in High School and in C.Y.F.

This early in the morning, even Bev Ludwig requires extra work to maintain her concentration.

Because of late means of transportation, many CHS students arrive at school just in time to catch up on the latest gossip, grab their books, and dash to class. Others manage to get here early and walk the halls, visit friends, and finish last minute homework.

Students walk, run, drive, or ride the bus to school. Although coming late to CHS does have its advantages such as sleeping longer, or taking your time and not rushing, most people agree it's better to leave time "just in case." Either way, the main idea is to get here!

Lori Stein and Debbie Moldovan serve as examples of good little IOE girls

Give me the best girl that I am sure glad I met this year. I wish you could stay that I would see you all next year but I can't. I hope you love your down south, and I hope you write to me about it. I'll never forget you. Love ya Always Tony A. "50" P.S. Send me your address

When KIM CHERDAR speaks, just about EVERYBODY listens.

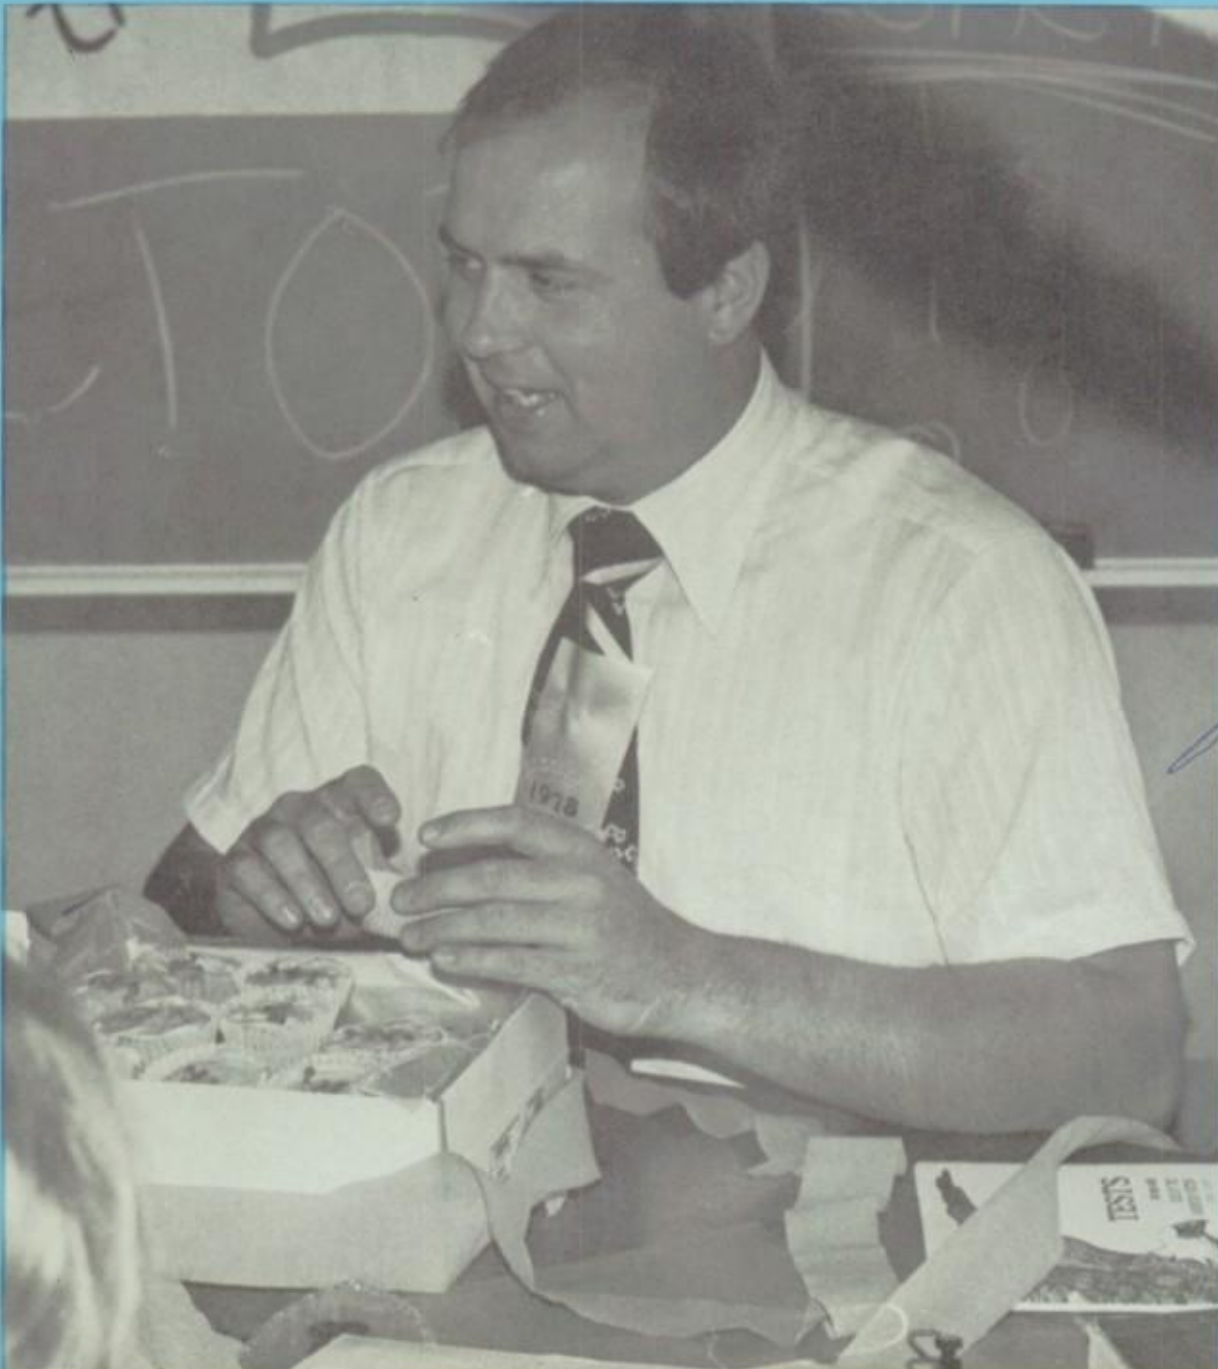

After seeing her plate, Kathy debates whether the lunch is worth buying.

"Zero out of 30 points again?" "What's happened to the cropper?" are heard along the CHS halls 4th period. But the most important query soon becomes, "What's for lunch?"

Care for an appetizer? We offer 'pushing, shoving, and cutting.' As side dishes one may choose a variation of 'ripping off' or an occasional dropping of a milkshake or tray. And for desert, we have Mr. Stoneman or Mr. Carmichael patrolling the cafeteria for signs of trouble.

The sacrifice of time waiting in line is costly during the 30 minute break. An alternative for some students is short pit stops in the lav to visit friends, or ? Some teachers try to avoid line build-up by dismissing classes early; while some people brown bag from home to save time.

This lunchtime, Mr. Gibson does his imitation of W. C. Fields.

Mr. Jackson wakes up the football team with his own pep rally.

It takes a while to work out of the drowsies which set in after lunch.

But there are solutions. Mr. Jackson tries to rev up his American History class with a minor pep rally. If there's a game, the football players go over defense and offense, and sometimes will participate in class. Other students, like Bill Shreves, use this period to meditate, daydream or get their 'heads together' for after school activities.

Jeff Dawson tries to explain the Champion defense to the class.

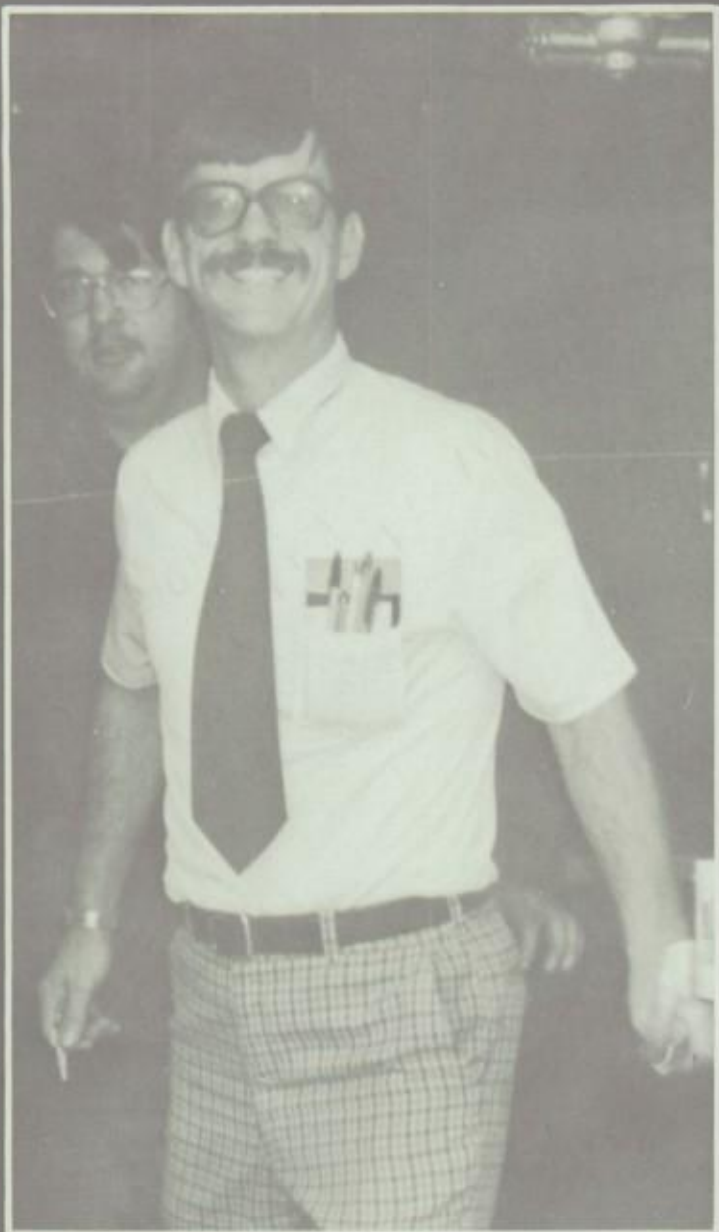

Bill Shreves 'pots around' after meeting the last Levin deadline.

Mr. Thorne obviously likes the idea of leaving school.

After school, Sandy Fumerola displays her real personality.

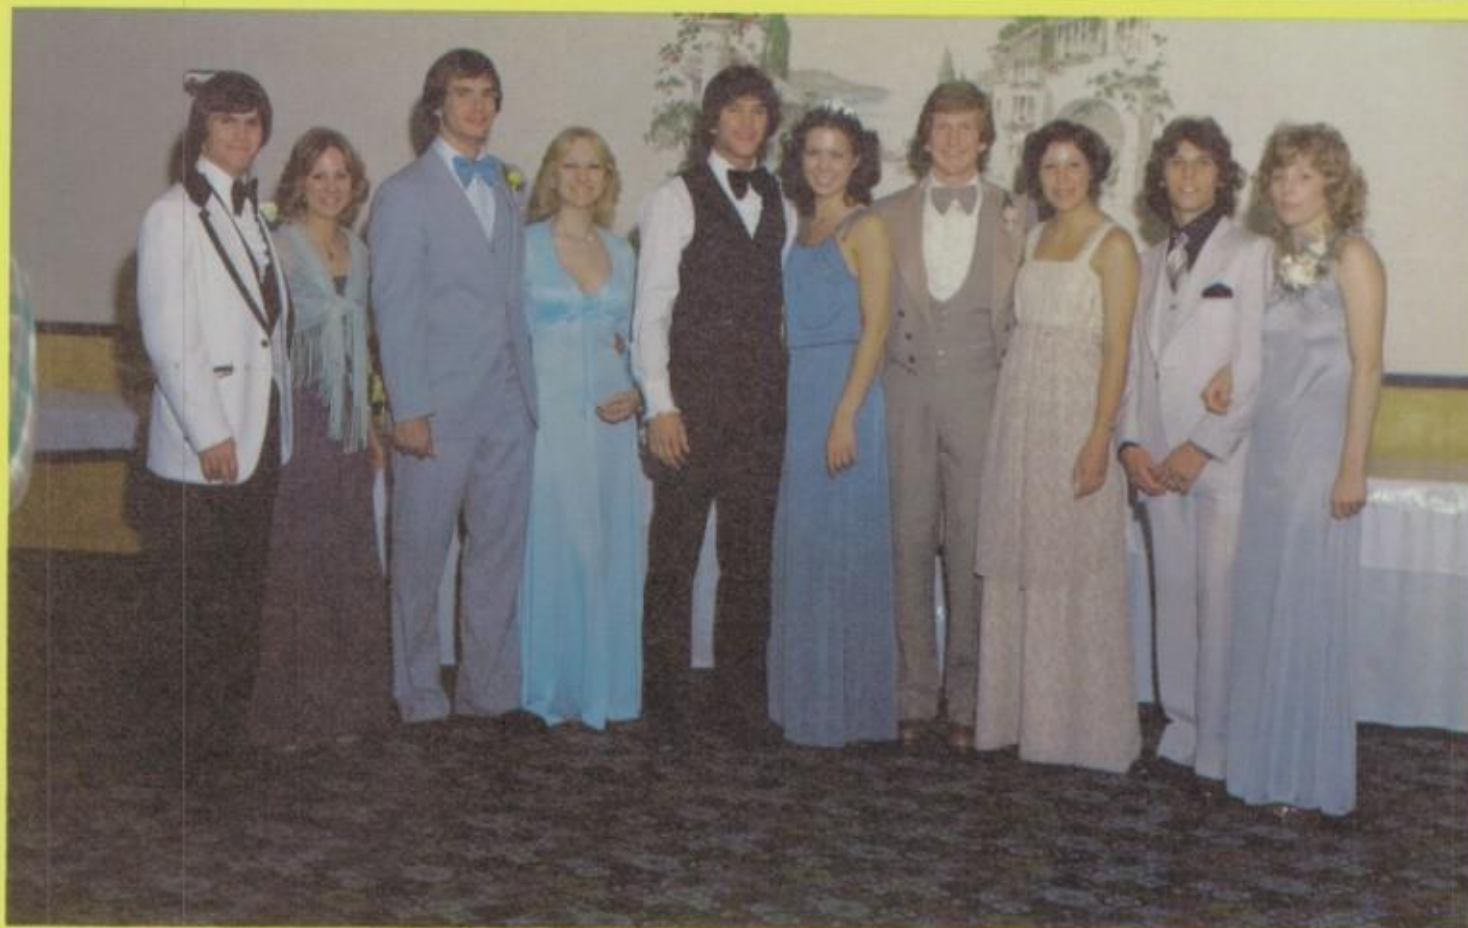

Kelly Chesmar, the only senior on the bus, looks at the underclassmen, thinking, "How immature."

That last bell! It's finally rung and the last rush begins. Most students hurry to their lockers, grab books, and run to catch buses. Silence descends. It's almost the nicest time of day to be in school.

But gradually, in places, life occurs again. On the parking lot the band may be practicing; on the field the team is scrimmaging; in the gym the girls are volleying the ball for their next match; and in some rooms teachers are grading the last test papers of the day.

For some, the work day is only beginning. The janitors and custodians are hard at work cleaning rooms and halls. They stay late at night to assure that the school is always clean and orderly.

The royal court poses: Ross Dueber, Brenda Mills, Gary Crump, Tisa Yocum, King Mike Sumner, Queen Kerri Tollefson, Jeff Johnson, Debbie Novotny, Mike Alexi, and Rae Ann Farnham.

On May 12th, at 9 pm, the Junior class hosted the 1978 Prom at DiVieste Banquet Hall. After standing for the traditional pictures, everyone danced to the enjoyable music of Menagerie. The soft lights and romantic spring night set the mood for the theme "We've only Just Begun."

For the first time, CHS crowned a Prom King and Queen. Voting, the students selected Mike Sumner and Kerri Tollefson for the honor. The couple led their royal court in a spotlight dance.

After dancing til 1 am, everyone still awake went to Movie World to see 'High Anxiety.' The fun lasted until dawn Saturday when some people went to breakfast or home to sleep before spending the afternoon at Cedar Point, canoeing, or picnicing. Although Prom weekend zipped by, our memories will last a lifetime.

Queen Kerri and King Mike take a break between dances.

The food line was long, but dinner was worth the wait.

Prom 1978

"We've Only Just Begun"

Is it 'love' or are these couples just tired?

Mike Ruddy looks like he's really thrilled with this whole affair.

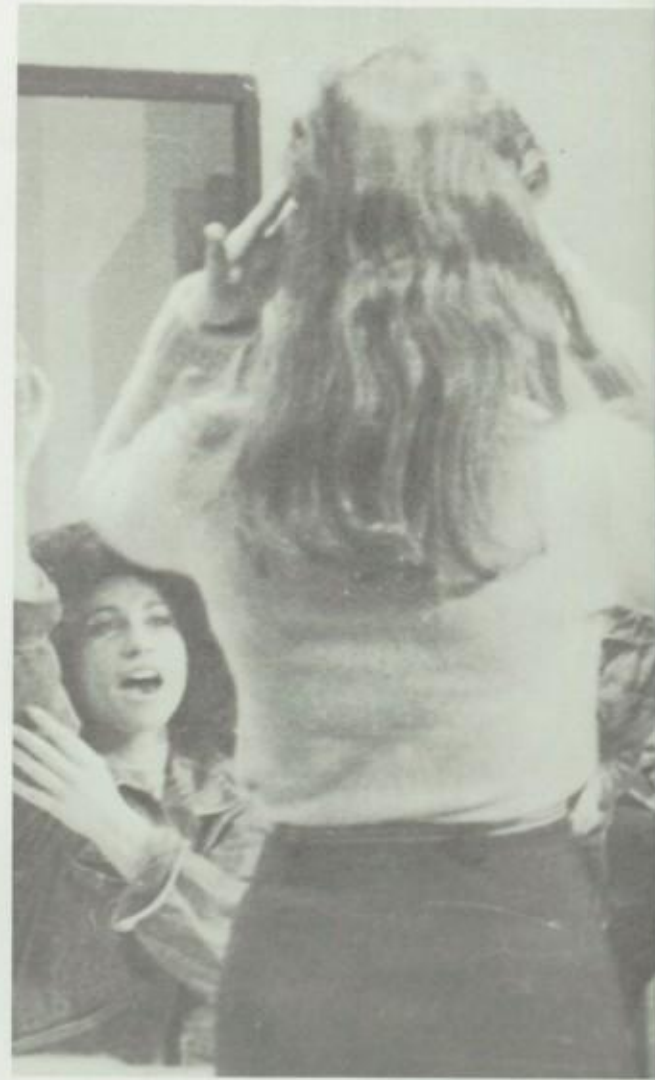

Deanne and Tom are anxiously waiting for the band to start playing.

Showing off their Prom finery are: Kelly Brown, Ted Bloom, Perry Nicholas, Mary Jo Sumner, Wally Dawson and Mary Lawrence.

Ooh, ooh, ooh!!! Anne Smith, Miss Barrett, tries to field answers from her students.

Bruce makes his point clear to Leslie: student to teacher.

Believable? Rick Sharick, hood, displays his 'toughness.'

Can you believe Val And Barb trying to cheat on a test?

George gets all 'slicked up' for his play part.

UP the DOWN STAIRCASE

Hi Teach
ab

On March 11th and 12th, the Junior class presented the play "Up the Down Staircase." Under the direction of Mrs. Brockett, the juniors produced a success. The comedy was about a beginning teacher at Calvin Coolidge High School in New York City. Miss Barrett, the new teacher, tries valiantly to teach her rowdy students, while contending with cheating, spit-balling, suicide, and the lack of understanding. Despite her hassles with the pupils and the 1001 forms of CCHS, Miss Barrett eventually succeeds in taming the school year and surviving in one piece.

Putting on That Finishing Touch

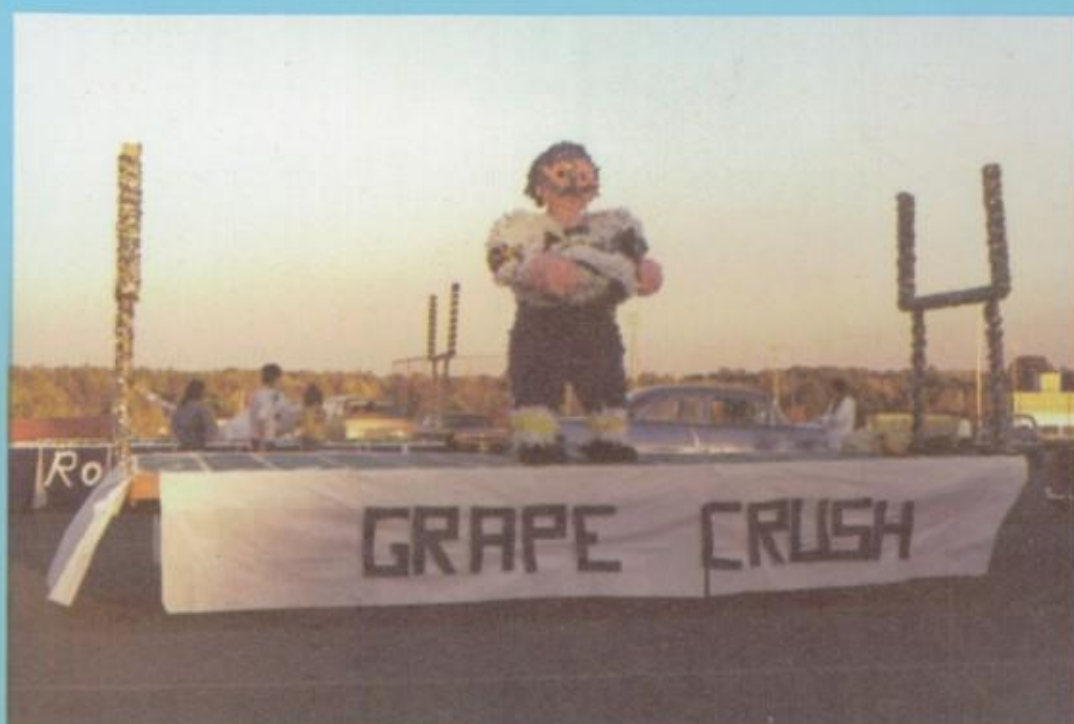

Romona Comrie stands stunned after being announced 1978 Homecoming Queen.

The junior and freshmen float's theme was 'Thunder Defense.'

Queen Romona smiles while being crowned by Diane Crawford.

The senior and sophomore float's theme illustrates the 'Lightning Offense.'

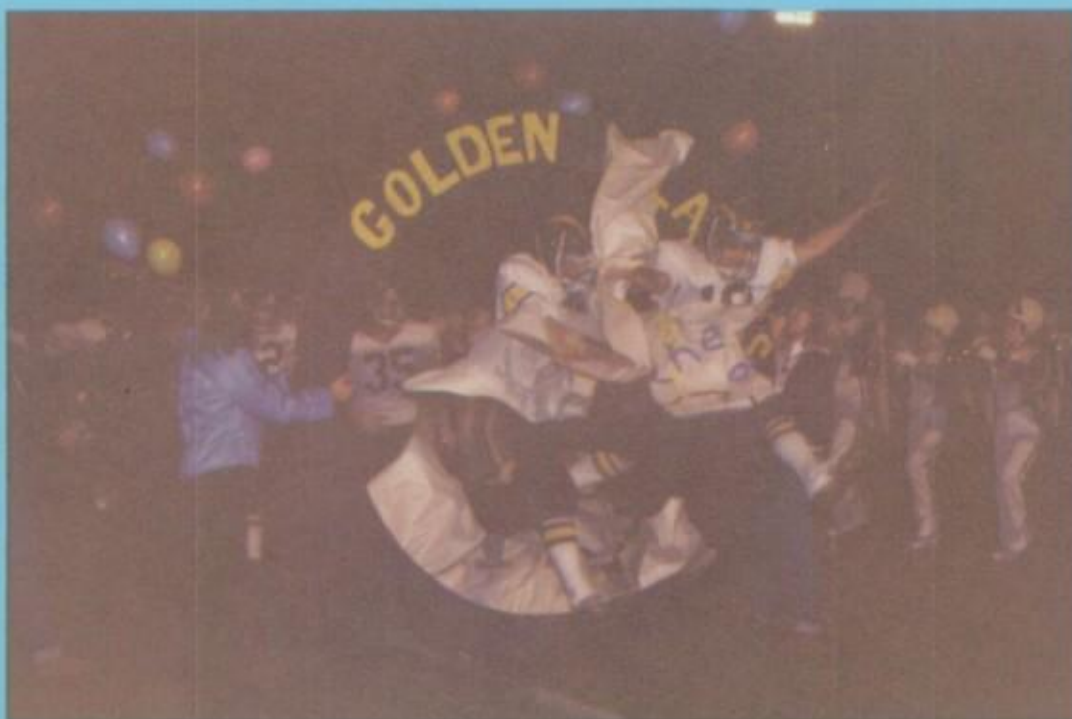

In their huddle, the team tries to spur on their enthusiasm.

Homecoming festivities began as floats were built Thursday night and completed Friday by game time. Only 2 floats were made—one by the seniors and sophomores, the other by the juniors and freshmen. The building took place in the school bus garage, thereby eliminating much of the hassle of previous years.

The enthusiasm of our crowd was matched Friday by a perfect fall evening. Pre-game activities included the traditional parade of floats and the Queen's crowning. After presentation of the candidates, a disbelieving Romona Comrie was crowned 1978 Homecoming Queen.

Unfortunately the Flashes were unable to bound back against Lakeview's offense. A disappointed crowd left the stadium after the 25-6 game.

The Flashes charge through their hoop before the homecoming game.

The ball is up for grabs as CHS players down a Lakeview Bulldog.

Homecoming Dance

Highlighting the football season and homecoming weekend, the dance was held on Saturday, October 21st. More than 100 couples boogied until 11 pm to the sound of Menagerie. The decorations in the cafeteria and the music soon had all out of their seats and onto the floor. Judy Miller, Jeff Dawson and Todd Triplett were even inspired to do their version of 'Disco Inferno.'

Most couples broke their rhythm only long enough to leave the school and go out to eat and party elsewhere.

The men worked up a thirst after dancing to the beat of Menagerie.

Summer Itinerary 1978

The gardens at the Alhambra make a tempting place to rest and shoot pictures.

Brenda Jenkins and Lori Medwick mug for the camera in their Mexican sombreros.

In the summer of '78 more CHS students than ever escaped the weather and the country.

CHS band members and chaperones enjoyed a work-play visit south of the border to Mexico. Despite concert giving, enough time was found for fun. Trips were made to climb the Aztec pyramids; to float down the canals in Xochimilco; and to wander about Mexico City's Square of Three Cultures.

London and its environs intrigued Mrs. Brockett and her students. Ask what they recall about their trip and answers will vary from Shakespeare at Stratford to London Tower, from St. Paul's Cathedral to Soho.

At the end of July, a group of students travelled with Mrs. Robinson to Spain. The chance of trying to converse with a native was stimulating and a bit frustrating. Not everyone speaks English! CHS students saw Don Quijote windmills, attended a bullfight, and walked through the Alhambra.

The places were varied; the experiences different. One thing was clear. Travelling is too stimulating to miss. There's a big world outside of Champion.

Mr. Paterniti directs in CHS band in its first foreign concert in Mexico.

Dawn Emery and Mary Flesch meet John Fulton, the only American to be a fully initiated matador in Spain.

Snap! You're on American film! An English Beefeater guard poses at the Tower of London.

Tourists and guitarists float in the flower boats down the canal of Xochimilco, Mexico.

The British flags decorate the square close to Buckingham Palace.

Connie Taylor and Darlene Sapp practice their grooming skills.

Karen Neiswanger and Joy Groom enjoy flower arranging.

Richard Alonso takes a lunch break in the new vocational school cafeteria.

Mike Moneypenney and Mike McVay take time to catch up on the news during lunch.

Joint Vocational School Opens

A new opportunity available to students at Champion High School is participation in the Trumbull County Joint Vocational School. This is the first year that students may choose to go to either the high school or the vocational school. Juniors and Seniors may take part in one of 39 different programs, offered in Agriculture, Business and Office Education, Distributive Education, Home Economics, Trade and Industry. The vocational students will receive their high school diploma from their home school and a certificate of completion from TCJVS.

The Senior Class Presents . . .

"Heaven Can Wait"

On November 10th and 11th, the seniors presented their class play, "Heaven Can Wait." The cast and stage crew put in long rehearsal hours to make the production successful. George Ullinskey played the lead of Joe Pendleton, a boxer who was prematurely taken to heaven after his plane crashed. Finding another body for Joe so that he might resume earthly life concerns the rest of the cast and play.

This year the play was also given twice in matinee performances. Freshmen and sophomores previewed it on Thursday afternoon, while the seniors and juniors saw it Friday.

After their last performance on Saturday night, the cast celebrated at Bill Schrader's house. It was a party well deserved!

George, as Joe, exercises his million dollar legs.

"What's going on around this crazy place?"

George watches in amazement as Randy kisses his wife, Kathy.

"Run that one by me again!"

Mary's just seen a ghost in heaven. And it plays the sax.

By George, Joe Pendleton, we did it!

Randy Skaggs and Gayle Russell get their trophies for best actor and best directoress. They represented the junior class.

Inter-Class Play Competition

On November 30, 1978, the Drama Club held their annual inter-class play competition. Under the supervision of Miss Beverley Bronson, each class put on a one act play timed for 30 minutes. The Junior class nearly swept all the honors with "The Werewolf." Their production won first place in the competition; Randy Skaggs won as best actor, and Gayle Russell took the best director award. The best actress award went to Almarine Leard for her performance in the freshman play, "The Haunted Theatre." Although winning no awards, the seniors' "Parted on her Weddin' Morn," and the sophomores' "Quiet Please," were also worth viewing.

Almarine Leard, John Byers, and Jill Zemka were in the cast of the freshman play, "The Haunted Theatre."

Vanessa brings out the animal in Randy Skaggs.

As Beasly Beast, Amy Fenton terrorizes young King Arthur, played by Val Campbell.

"A Quest for Young Arthur"

On March 7th, the Drama Club, under the direction of Miss Bev Bronson, produced its annual childrens' play, "A Quest for Young Arthur." The play was shown on Wednesday afternoon to the students at the Kiser and Central elementary schools.

Club members worked hard to learn their lines, and spent much time and effort in building a set which had to be transported from the high school to the Central gym. Members involved in the undertaking included: Sue McGowan, Judy Kuszmaul, Amy Fenton, Val Campbell, Rae Ann Carr, Mark Davison, Lori Rhodes, Gayle Russell, Jill Zemka, Phyllis Cordle, and Almarine Leard. Other students who worked on building the set were: Ruth Green, Scott Latimer, and Paul Bauer.

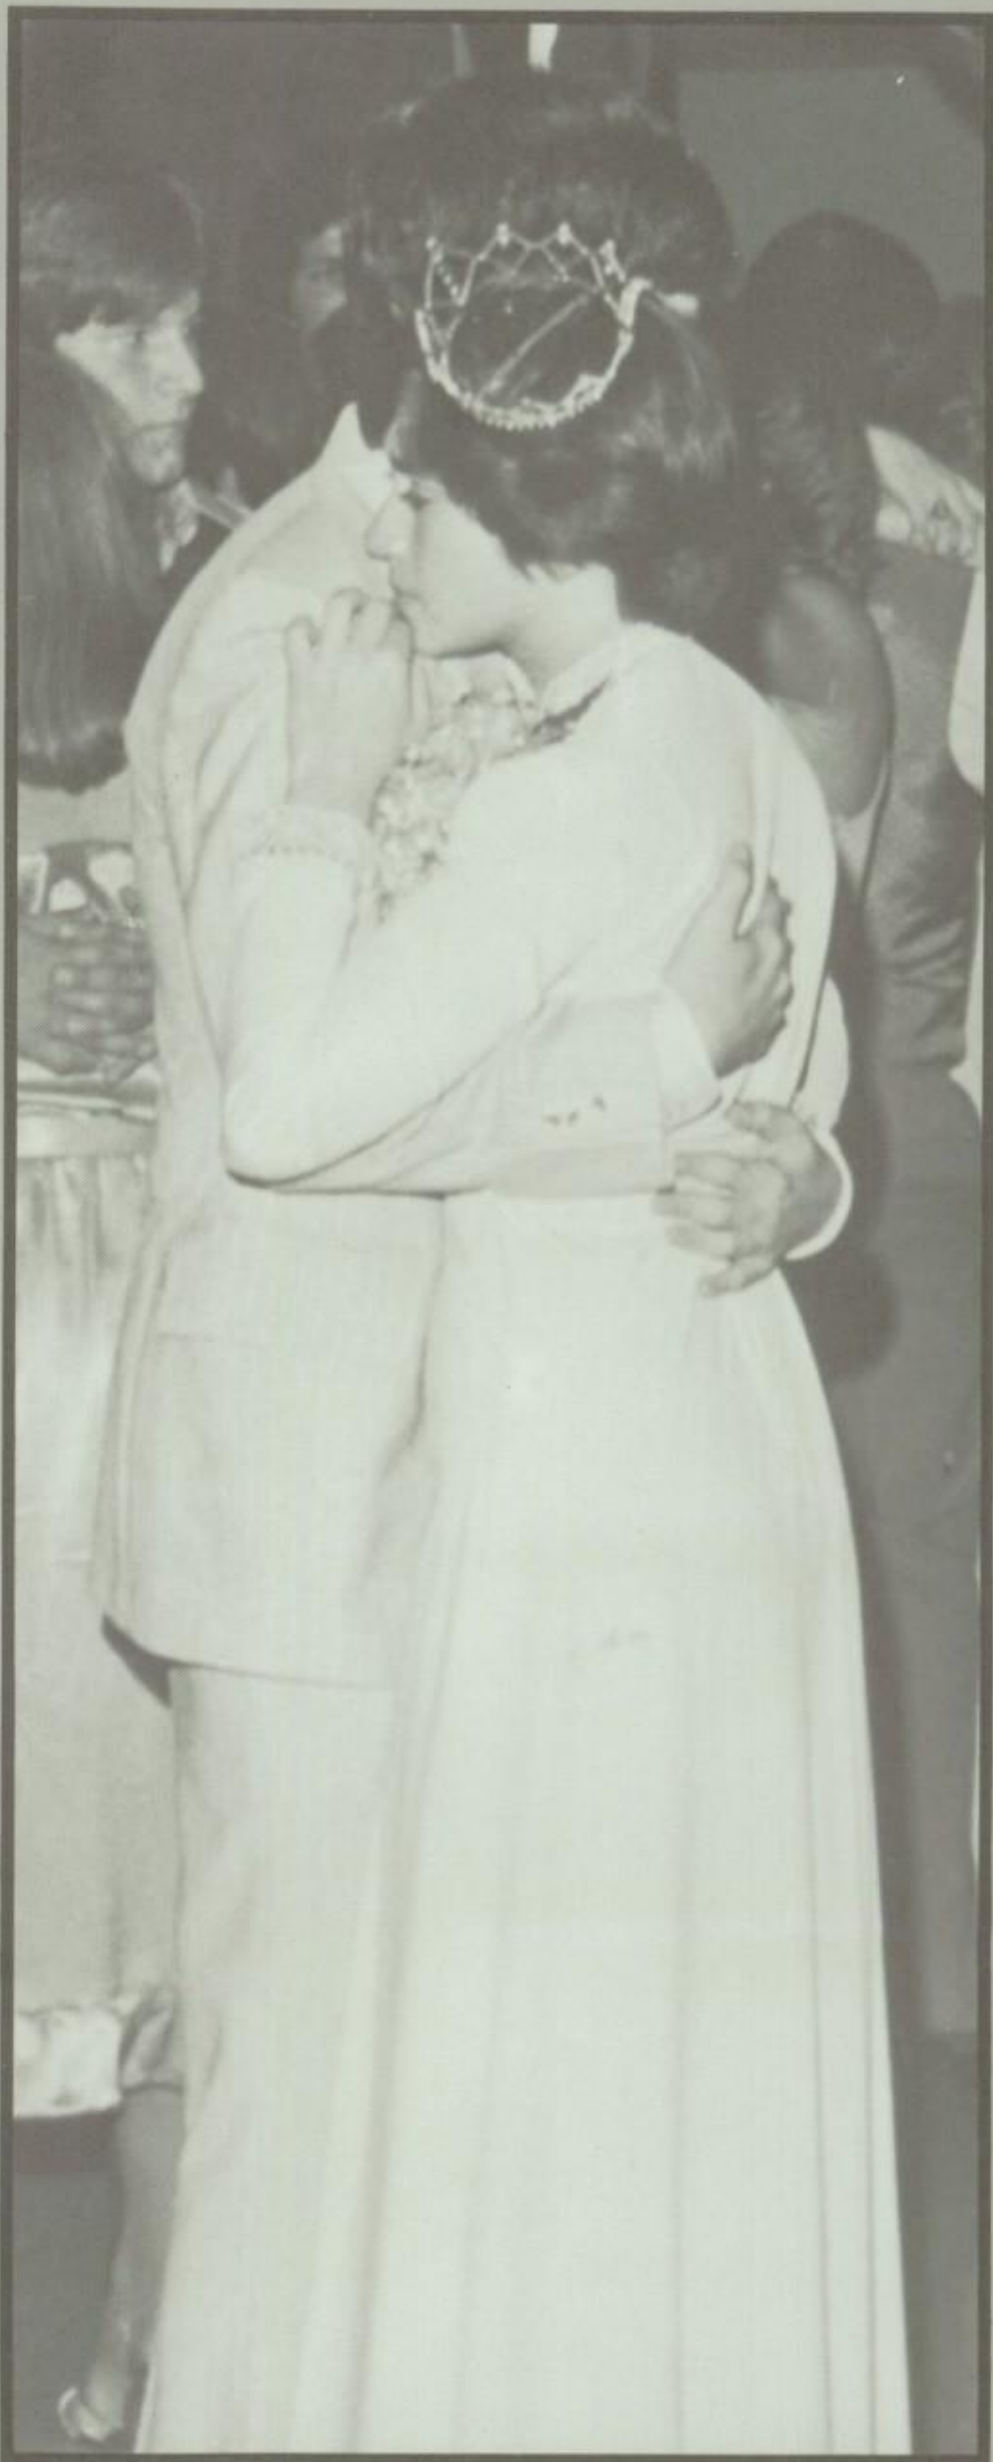

Sue McGowan, Lori Rhodes, and Judy Kuszmaul help set up their props.

Big "O"

1978 was the first year in which the Seniors did not have to make a float by themselves. The seniors, instead, were teamed with the sophomores. Mrs. Wolfe was again chaperone and guard of the bus garage doors. The crowd behaved well and everyone had a good time, although less rowdy than usual. Building was off to a slow start but by the next day, Friday, the float was finished with crepe paper to spare.

Future Plans

There are choices open to seniors besides the standard options of college, jobs, and marriage. Some people decided that enlisting in the service was the thing for them.

Other people will choose unusual jobs like being a mortician, garbage collector, taxidermist, and philosopher. Sound strange? But these are a few of the occupations that people in our school have picked for the future.

And still others will have ordinary hum drum, run of the mill jobs, but then all must remember that a job is important no matter what it is.

And h-e-r-e-'s WHALE!

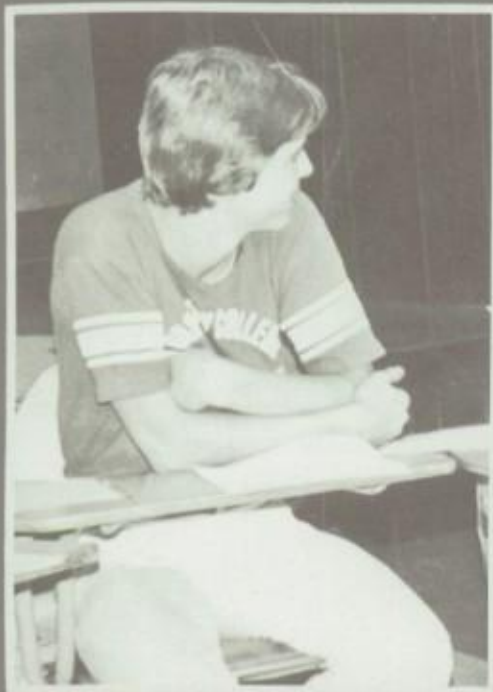

Oh no you don't !!!

What To Be Or Not To Be . . .

The big decision is about to be made. Those students who will continue onto college, will find that attending a university is more than just going to class. Renting a room, cramming for tests, getting along with roommates, and making it on one's own are some of the hardships or pleasures involved in furthering one's education.

Others who are not planning to attend college will probably maintain full time jobs, having many decisions to make about life, such as supporting themselves and their needs, and finding interest in the job.

After this senior year, each must understand that this is the end of being under mother's wing and the beginning of making it on his own. Responsibilities will be rushing at full force.

Why don't you settle down!

What could Chris be thinking about in such deep thought?

On June 3, 1979, the seniors of CHS will be graduating at W.D. Packard Music Hall. Certainly, this will be the highlight of our 12 years. The band will play as usual "Pomp and Circumstance." Lots of sighs of relief will be heard, many tears will be shed. And for all of us, after the speeches are given, the addresses are spoken, and the diplomas passed out, this is the end of an old life and the beginning of a new one.

Gain Experience

First hand experience in government is the purpose of Boys' and Girls' State. Five girls learned the responsibilities and functions of both the state and local governments after being chosen by their teachers (social studies) and interviewed by American Legion members. Girls' Staters spent 10 days at Capital University in Columbus. Upon arrival, representatives selected a particular government office and began to campaign for that office. All the color and excitement of a real campaign was had by these students: Valerie Campbell, Cindy Sawayda, Michelle Vitale, Becky Schuster, and Anne Smith.

Being Anonymous

Is Safer!

"The end is near, so bring OUT THE BEER!" The time is here to raise some cheer!

Is what the 79 seniors will be saying, as they open their graduation night celebrating.

But from this night on we know that the partying must slow down, and there will be less fooling around.

We have to think about life and the things to come and not just think that school is over and done . . .

. . . because this is where our life begins and the responsibilities grow & never seem to end.

We hope everyone will make it through life and be able to carry out all the burdens and do what is only right for them; we also hope everyone will pull through and successfully meet all the challenges confronting you.

To sum it all up we seriously want to say: We wish you luck each and every day!

Academic Challenge Meeting of the Minds

Kent Sewell, Jim Gaughan, Anne Smith, and Pat Gaughan, with Harold Shaffer represented our school as the Academic Challenge team for this year. Mrs. Carole Kyser again acted as advisor. The team was picked after a mock academic challenge session was held. Students who scored the highest number of points in the game were selected as finalists for the actual television program. The questions asked cover a wide variety of fields from science, and mathematics to foreign language.

This was the first year that our school's team did not appear on television as Academic Challenge teams from all high schools will now only appear on alternate years. This means we should look forward to 'meeting the minds' once again next year.

Looking ready to take on any willing Academic Challenge team are: Pat Gaughan, Anne Smith, Harold Shaffer, Kent Sewell, Jim Gaughan, and advisor, Mrs. Carole Kyser.

It's hard to be a Junior. We're not on the bottom, and just not quite the top men either. Sometimes we wish we were seniors, but the next minute we're realizing how close that would be to graduation and being on our own. And then we're wishing we could start all over again, or maybe prolong school a little bit. We've had some good moments, and we've had some bad. Ordering our class rings was definitely 'good,' selling spices was not. Because we're in the middle, we'll learn from all our experiences, and by the time we're seniors, we'll deserve to be at the top!

When the school year began here at the high school, the junior class found that it had lost a lot of its members. Most of these students had decided to take advantage of the opening of the new Joint Vocational School, and put its schedule of classes to work to fit their needs. Juniors are able to enroll in such classes as: Carpentry, Auto Repair, Child Care, and others that Champion is not able to offer because of our limited facilities. The JVS has been an added bonus for everyone. Though missed here at CHS, those juniors may still participate in our school functions.

A Time to Work (with a Little Messing Around)

Part of being a Junior is taking on the responsibility of putting together the 1979 Prom. Some of us chose the hall while others have listened to bands to choose the 'sound.' In March the class participates in the play, "Arsenic and Old Lace," with rehearsals and set building. Later in the year we will test our knowledge on the PSAT test. This year we have shown we are capable of handling our responsibilities, yet the pictures on these pages also show that we know how to mess around.

Enjoying It in the Middle

Most underclassmen feel as if they are always on the bottom rung and never noticed, but always hoping that their junior year will bring them more opportunities for recognition. By this time there is only one more year to go. The feeling of rushing through school and rushing to class changes into a feeling of being in the middle and enjoying it.

The juniors on this layout are in the middle: Todd and Mary Jo are in the middle watching a game in the gym. Debbie daydreams in the middle of her English class. Randy Skaggs is caught as he goes to class, while Maija looks up during typing. She looks a little confused. Sandy and friend are in the middle of the 6th period announcements, while all the rest of juniors at that time are between 6th and 7th periods, and longing to be going home.

Sandee Horton smirks at something, while Todd and MaryJo get a laugh at the right.

Around

Ordering class rings is a highlight of the sophomore year, but having them arrive is even better. When the "Ringman is coming" signs first appear, the sophomores get busy discussing what kind of rings to choose. When the "ringman" arrives, you finally place your order for your very own class ring! After weeks pass, they finally are shipped in. And for the next three weeks the sophomores walk around with their hands ready to show off their rings to anyone who asks, and even to those who don't.

Being Unique, Being Sophomores

We would all like to be recognized as being good at something. It's only natural that people crave attention, need recognition, and desire praise. But somehow when we were sophomores that praise was harder to come by. For what is special about being a sophomore? The only difference is having one year over the frosh and two under the seniors. Every class seemed to have something special, but us. But one way we did stand out was in the Class Play competition. And it did feel pretty nice to have that spotlight once.

This Is Excitement?

Remember when our parents and grandparents used to tell us that our school days would be the best years of our lives? The most challenging or exciting? Well, in part they were right. English II classes were almost too much for some of us—Et tu Brutus? became Et tu Teacher? Maybe the excitement came at the end of the day during Driver's Ed and found out for the first time what the wheel is all about.

Time-Out for Some Fun

Becoming a freshman is something special. It is a new year that challenges everyone in new and exciting ways. Being low men on the high school totem pole has posed new obstacles such as working together to build a float, selling stick pins to raise money for the class treasury, and studying for tougher exams. These can be conquered. Remember you're only freshmen, the best (or worst) is yet to come.

Money! Money! Money! Everyone needs it. To make some money to finance future class projects, the freshman class sold stick pins. Working Our Way Through School

This is the first year that we as freshmen were able to pick our own classes and rearrange our schedules. We also found that we had a choice of teachers. Did we want to habla español in Spanish I, or parle Français in French I? Was it IPS or Biology and all those lab experiments!? Maybe even a General Science course instead? Should we draw in Art or Mechanical Drawing? Not counting electives, we also had to figure in required subjects: Gym, Health, English. There had to be at least 5 classes to our day before we were permitted an extra study hall. What an introduction to high school responsibility!

Administration

The school board at Champion has been responsible for keeping our high school running in an organized manner. The board represents the public and reviews the superintendent's decisions. They made up the policies that keep our school at the top of Trumbull County academically. This year's board members include: Mr. Leeper, Superintendent, Dr. Sharick, Dr. Sudimack, Mr. Armstrong, Mr. Mahan, and Mr. Flesch. Mrs. Fenton serves as the Clerk-Treasurer.

Superintendent, Mr. John Leeper, listens attentively to another board member.

The Board of Education discusses the last set of figures read by Mrs. Fenton.

Prince- PAL?

Our administrators are the men who see to it that CHS runs efficiently. Mr. Lee Seiple, principal, and Mr. Tom Manning, assistant principal, coordinated the activities of the high school with the policies of the school board.

They both assure that the students are well educated and take advantage of the opportunities offered throughout the year. Mr. Seiple and Mr. Manning also permit the teachers to enjoy their time in the classroom by taking care of discipline, and both keep the community and parents informed about school progress and happenings of note.

Mr. Seiple points out a problem to Miss Marino in hopes she'll have an answer.

Each of the teachers has his own schedule and his ways of making it flexible. As the day begins, most of the teachers can be found in Mr. Seiple's office sipping the last of their coffee before dashing off to class.

Mr. Paterniti sees that his cup is filled throughout the day. Mr. Thorne and Mr. Politsky compare notes on their next trip to New York to ski. Around lunch time Mr. Coxson and Mr. Carmichael supervise the crowd in the cafeteria. Later on in the afternoon, Mr. Day travels to other schools. Mrs. Wildman tries to get Mrs. Reese to type a requisition form, and the students in In-house take their break with Mr. Roberts. And finally the 2:40 bell rings. It's hard to tell who sighs in more relief—the students or the teachers.

Most students think that figuring out grades is an easy task for the teacher. 'Why didn't I get the grade I deserved?' Well, chances are, you did. It's no picnic keeping track of tests, checking on make-up work, and figuring out final averages. It's hard to decide when a student is on the borderline which way he goes, up or down. If you think your grades pain you, think again. They're also a pain for the faculty.

Extracurricular Events

Being a teacher can be frustrating at times and it can also be very rewarding. Teaching is more than grading papers and giving tests, it is patrolling the halls and restrooms, monitoring detention after school, and chaperoning extracurricular activities. The average student doesn't realize the time that's spent in supervising groups, clubs, or sports. For some teachers the school day lasts 3 or 4 hours after 2:40. Many of the contributions are forgotten in the normal, everyday of the average CHS student. But for those involved, it means a lot and is appreciated.

Getting It Together

Champion High could not function without the small groups of people who do the dirty jobs: our cooks and custodians. We do not realize that they are important, but they are very much so! The custodians keep our school spotless and well maintained. Mr. Cottrell and Mr. Wingfield are on duty during regular school hours while the other custodians begin their work when the students leave. The cooks work doubly hard to feed us all. Remembering that their meals must feed over 800 people makes one hesitate before criticizing. We, as students, appreciate our cooks, custodians, and the jobs they do.

STUDENT COUNCIL:

Leadership Roles Assumed

One of the most rewarding clubs at Champion High is its Student Council. Not only do its members have a chance to be actively involved in a fun and creative organization, but they also have a chance to voice their opinions about "What's wrong at CHS."

Some activities Council sponsored were the Homecoming dance and festivities, the concession stand at football games, and the 1978 Christmas assembly. Other projects will include a disco dance, a canned food drive at Easter, and a submarine sandwich sale.

Council was led this year by President Michelle Vitale and co-Vice Presidents Judy Kuszmaul and Cindy Sawayda. It was advised by Mrs. Patricia Wolfe, and Mr. Tom Tinkler, who replaced Mrs. Wolfe when she left due to pregnancy.

The President, Michelle, and Vice President, Judy, listen to ideas from the rest of the council members.

Michelle makes her officers of Student Council crack down to work.

Senior Student Council members are just hanging around.

Judy, I don't believe you DID that.

NHS members make their own bowling rules.

Look at that style! Go, Mrs. Kyser.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is a very select club at CHS. NHS chapters are located all over the country. Seventeen students from the 1979 senior class were tapped as juniors to belong to the C.C. Kiser chapter. This spring more juniors and seniors will be sworn in. They are chosen by the faculty on scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The members sell programs at the basketball games to raise money for awards and scholarships. They also hope to perform a service project for the community or school this coming year. Mrs. Carole Kyser is the advisor.

On the Job Training

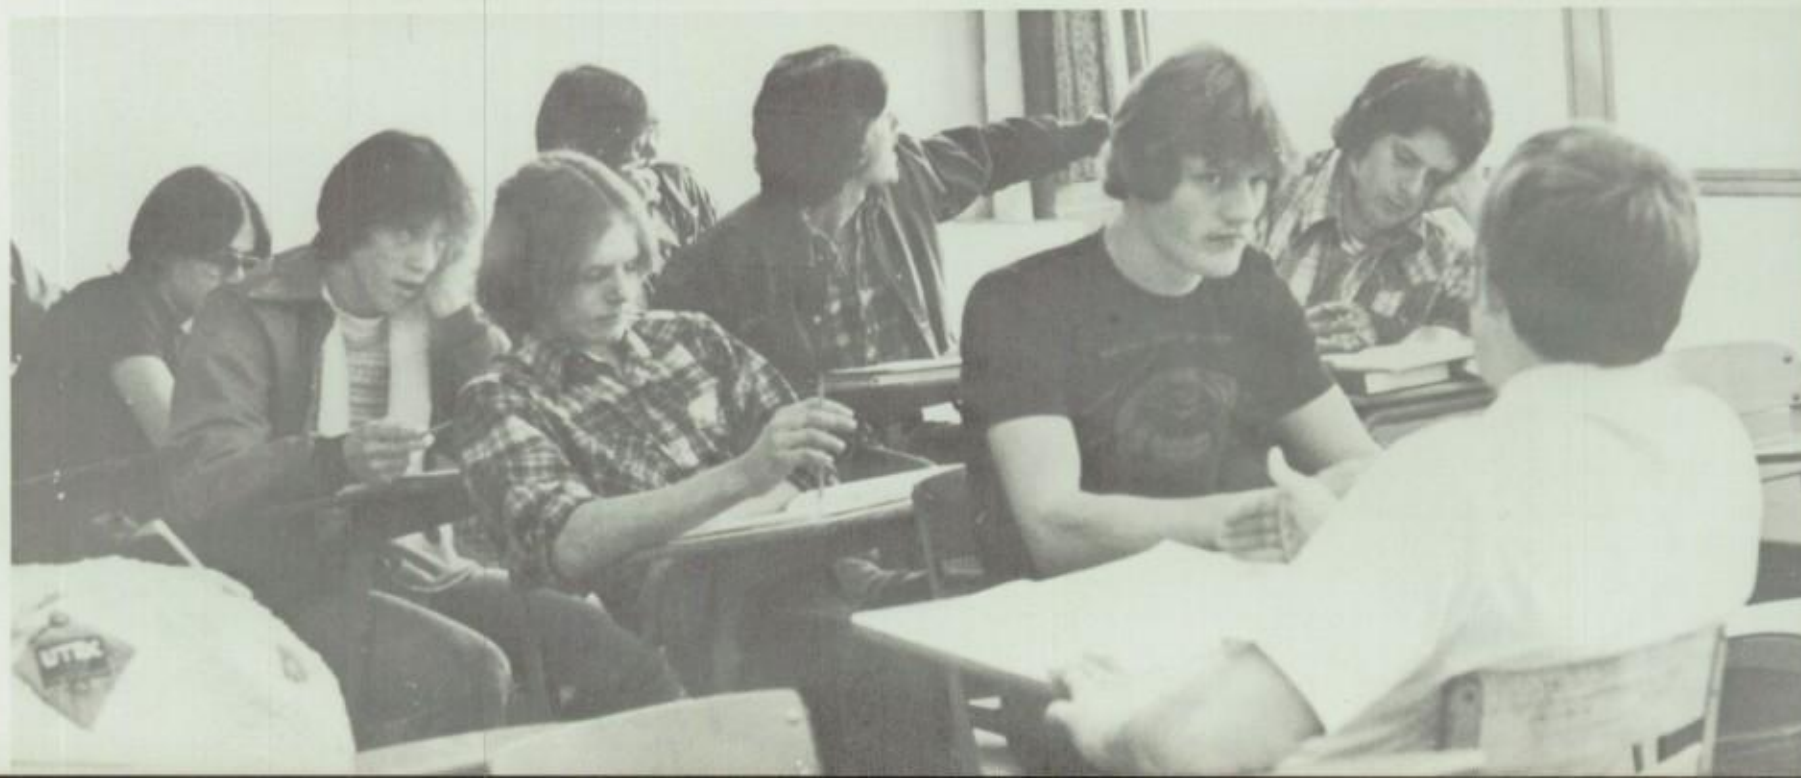

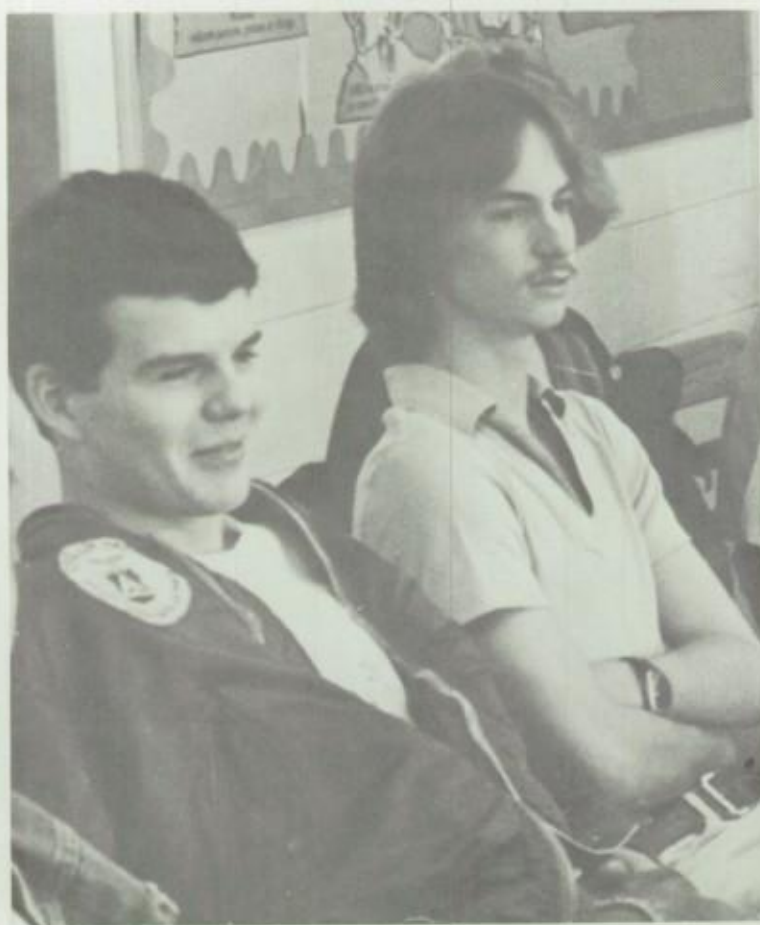

We won't tell what Steve, Linda, and Kim think about Bobbi's senior picture.

The OWE-DE program with the help of local businesses, prepares seniors for life and work after graduation. Students involved with this program attend school in the morning and work in the afternoon. Mr. Bob Burk and Mr. Paul Yocum, advisors, are always kept busy arranging new jobs for their people and supervising the old jobs. Most students work as clerks in department stores; as gas station attendants, or as waitresses.

Jim and Jeff looked enthused about spending another day with Mr. Burk.

Type, Type, & Retype

IOE is a 2 year course for junior and senior girls interested in the secretarial field. It gives students an opportunity to experience true office procedures. Typewriting along with shorthand and transcription skills are stressed. After finishing the course the students will know how to apply for a position in an office, how to succeed in that job,

If only Carol Conley knew what she was typing.

Diane tries to be doctor and typist as she listens to the dictaphone.

and how to advance to a higher post.

In the Jr. year shorthand, typing, and office practice are of the main concern. Most of the hard work is done in Jr. skills for perfecting as a senior.

Throughout the burdensome day, coffee breaks are taken, parties given, and friendships sought. Junior Officers are: Pres. Tracey Simmons, V. Pres.

Debbie James, Sec. Diane Steele, and Tres. Cindy Baker.

Senior IOE is the most memorable year and seems to be the easiest of the two. New subjects taken include: Office Practice II, Business English, and Shorthand II; not to mention the constant repetition of skills learned and applied from the previous year.

A Brandywine Bomber's Night

To ski DOWN a hill which I can hardly walk up, is a real problem. It seems pretty ridiculous to have trouble just in sitting down to ride a chair, but that IS a major endeavor. Once accomplishing the sitting down part there is time to stand up again.

Well, I'm at the top of a hill with a bunch of klutzes. Now it's my turn to make a fool of myself.

Look out! Move out of the way! Bam! Blop! SON OF A B-L-E-E-P! I bet you can guess what just happened. A newly made fool, otherwise known as a Brandywine Bomber, imported from Champion High, just took a fall.

For six weeks the over 125 member strong Ski Club loaded itself onto 4 buses and headed for Northern Ohio's largest ski resort. With Mr. Thorne and his able teacher-advisors, injuries, fights, pulled muscles were overcome with a minimum amount of mental breakdown.

The flutes await their turn to move during halftime activities at the football game.

Everyone works hard during band camp.

Some band members are interested in the game, and some in the talk.

Even in the rain, Jeff plays the drums to perfection.

C.H.S. Marching Band

The Champion High School marching band is under the direction of Mr. Robert Paterniti. His involvement with the band in the past two years has resulted in a greatly improved performance by band members. He has worked hard to rebuild the pride and respect that was for a while lost.

During the 1978 Homecoming halftime, for example, the Queen's Court was not the only attraction, as the band also captured its fair share of the attention with its black light show. But a brilliant halftime performance is only as good as the people who perform. Members of the marching band put in long hours of rehearsing and marching. The community has recognized the band's achievement with its strong support at Band Night and football games.

The band marches into one of its well known precision drills.

Majorettes

A TIME TO PERFORM

Majorettes, front; Gayle Russell, Judy Kuszmaul; Middle; Sandee Horton, Brenda Jenkins; Last; Lori Medwick, Becky Schuster.

For Lori, Becky and Chris this will be one of their last parades.

Being a Champion Majorette is not all glory like some people think. There are many hours of hard practice, bumps, bruises and pulled muscles to get routines to perfection. They must raise all the money for their uniforms used in the season and to pay their instructor, Betsy Ondich. Even with all the hard work they were proud to lead the band down-field at games and in parades.

The majorettes strut their stuff all year round.

This year's majorettes always shine with a pride well deserved.

Who's hiding behind that hat?

Symphonic

All eyes are on Mr. Pat as he directs at the Christmas concert.

The many hard hours of practice will soon pay off.

Rat-a-tat-tat

and a tootie-toot-toot! This familiar sound once again echoed through the halls of Champion as the symphonic and concert bands prepared for another musical season. They suffered through many long and tedious rehearsal hours, listening to Mr. Paterniti barking, "Whenever you're ready! Hey, join the band!" The symphonic band, lead mainly by its seniors, produced an exceptional Christmas concert, and hopes to gain straight "I's" at contest, not only for their conductors, but also for the senior band members as farewell. A tentative trip to Germany is being planned for this summer. The band expects this to be a working trip with a few concerts scheduled. With some hard work, CHS will wow them in Deutsch!

Mr. Pat goes over the contest music.

Hey Jim! Isn't that tuba a little big for you?

Practice, and more practice, makes perfect.

A Time For Tunes

C.H.S. sport spectators are entertained at half time of the basketball games by the rhythmic music of the Pep Band. The Pep Band helped to produce spirit at our games, trying to lift the team to victory. A-1 music is also heard from other small groups of musicians as the Stage Band and Wind Ensemble. These groups are known throughout the state for their excellent playing.

New Advisor, New Approach

Journalism class prepares for publication.

CHAMPION HIGH LIFE

Many changes occurred throughout this year in the journalism department. The staff spent many hours turning ideas into print. Randy Ford and Sandee Horton spent restless hours after school working to meet the oncoming deadlines. With the new advisor, Mrs. Paula Terlecky, helping out, Randy Ford, the editor, the High Life published a successful school bulletin. Also on the staff were: Bruce Jones, Scott Latimer, Randy Jewell, Kelly Chesmar, Lori Rhodes, Greig Flower, Todd Urmson, Jeff Davenport, Tom Mathews, Kathy Remias, Marsha Moss, George Ullinsky, Ken Barnes, Vic Romack, and Bill Shreves.

Editor Randy Ford explains his next assignment to Sandee Horton.

Bryan Green studies a magazine for ideas in writing a story.

Peer Supporters

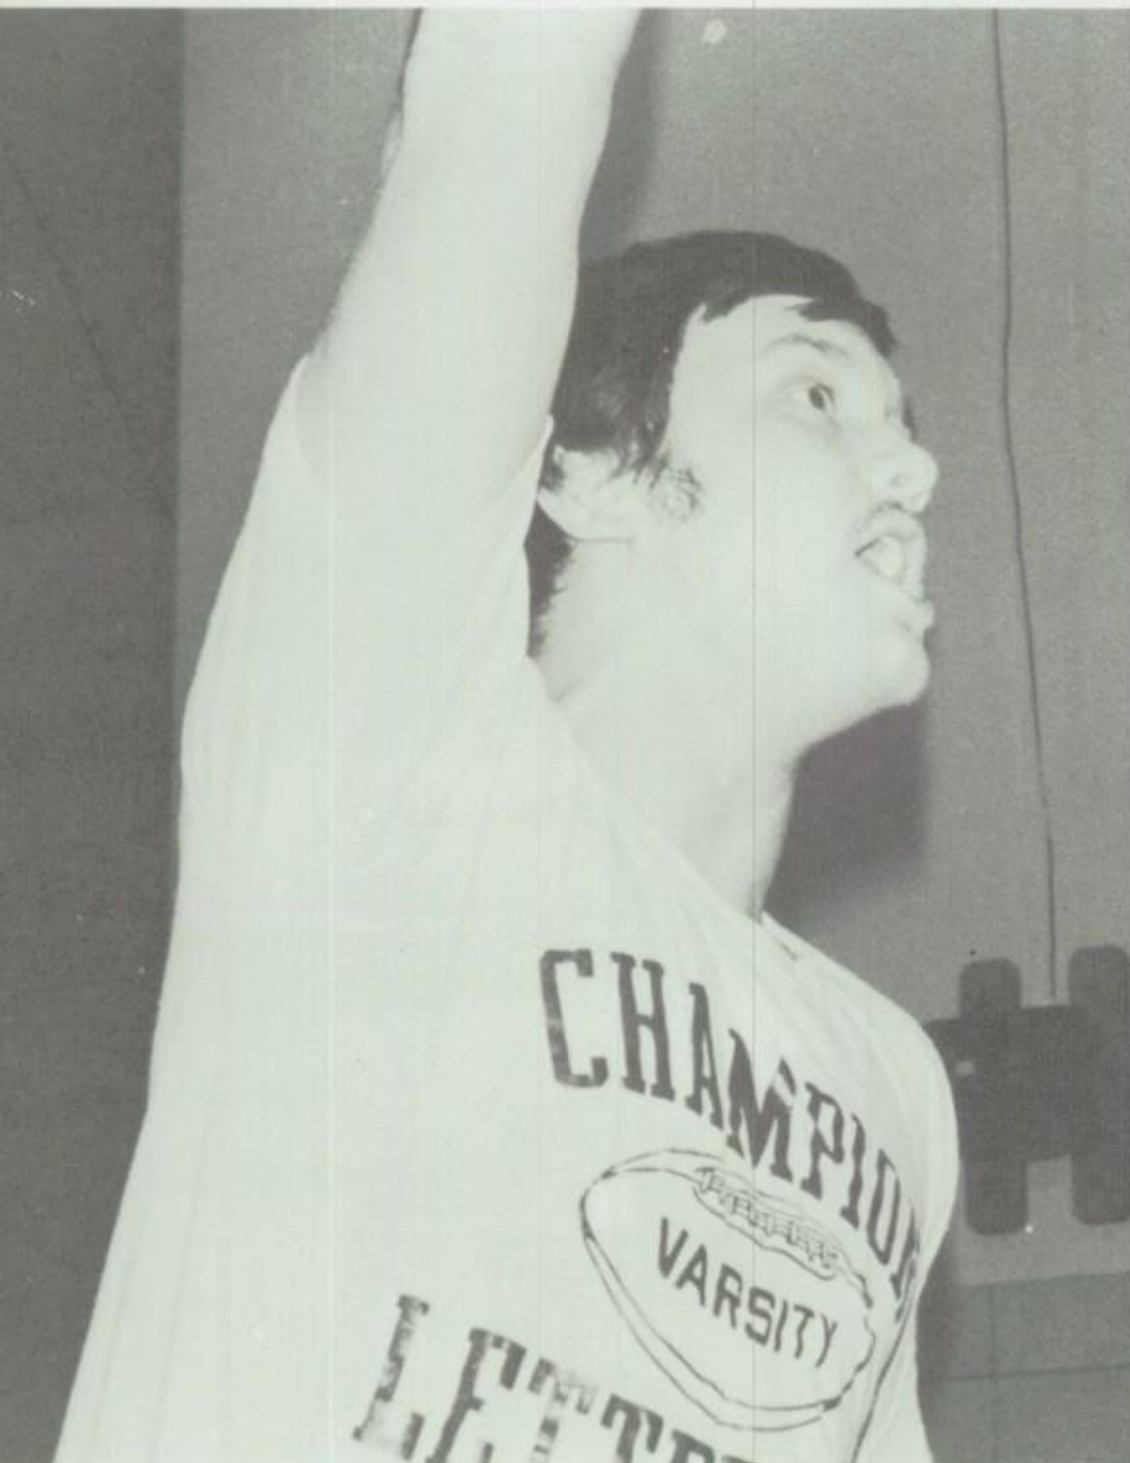

Hey, give me a "C"!

The spirit of CHS is one thing that has been revived during the past few years. The Pep Club was reorganized two years ago by some energetic people with the help of Miss Kijowski. It is the Pep Club which helps keep pride in our student body by decorating halls and lockers. They keep hopes and spirit alive during games so now Champion can stand up and be proud as other area schools. At games pep people sell food to the hungry fans so that they can keep on cheering.

Give me the usual with a twist of lemon.

What's the occasion? You cheer at a game, but not at a pep rally.

The cast relaxes after a tiring rehearsal.

Sue, a dedicated senior Thespian, is memorizing her lines.

Applause

Applause has often been heard by our Drama Club. The club is headed by Lori Rhodes, President, and Miss Bev Bronson, advisor. The drama curtain went up in March with a childrens' play, and later with a spring performance. Members had a fruit sale to help finance their projects. Thespian Society saw 26 new members sworn into their organization. Some members are known across the state; for instance Lori Rhodes is a State Student Representative to the International Thespian Society.

"Hey! What did you say?" Amy Fenton and Mark Davison go through their lines.

Choir

Before directing, Mr. Perna gets the feel of the music.

Michele Vitale and Dawn Emery look over the music before they attempt to play.

Choir Gains Voices

Playing a piano, reading a foreign language, and operating a complicated machine cannot be done without necessary training. Singing in the Choir is no different. The students who make up the Choir, under the direction of Mr. Larry Perna, have thus far sung at the annual Christmas concert on Dec. 21st. They succeeded in putting all who were there in the spirit. They have also performed for the elementary schools to increase student interest in music. The Choir is currently rehearsing for its end of the year spring concert. To hear some of the best voices around, plan to attend.

The entire choir settles down for a practice before the Christmas concert.

After long hours of practicing, the choir finally performs for an audience.

Who Cares?

Who really cares about the following information? 600 copies of the 1979 Levin were printed by Inter-Collegiate Press on Comstock I paper, with Liner Vellum and Granite Cur-sive print; covered with Blue Jeans linen, hot stamped in silver foil.

I'll tell you who really cares!! Mrs. Robinson, advisor; Maryann Potyonek, editor; Bill Schrader, co-editor; Mark Hughes, business editor; AND Kelly Chesmar, Monica Ashley, Norma Gautschi, Mary Bollenbacher, Karen Harman, Vanessa Buchanan, Scott Shallenberger, Denise Plant, Becky Schuster, Connie Joseph, Sue Skaggs, Judy Miller, Bill Shreves, Laurie Phillips.

At any time during the first semester a person could walk by room 7 and see members of the staff tearing at their hair. As Mark wrote bills and tried to figure out where the money was coming and going, Mrs. Robinson tried to figure why deadlines were coming so fast. Bill and Norma slaved over the senior section, while Sue and Scott hassled about the faculty copy. What was there to say? Now, what is there to say? It is finished. Barely. And the staff is proud. We hope you like it.

Lori Medwick and Becky Schuster discuss their next layout.

The French Club, headed by Miss Barb Johnson, has once again been an active club. During the year its members have sponsored many projects, including bake sales, car washes, and Christmas caroling. One of the club's last activities will be a trip to Montreal or Quebec, Canada in March. Practice up on those 'Au Revoir' and 'Bon Voyage.'

TEAM

Scott Freer shows that clowning around is the only way to play.

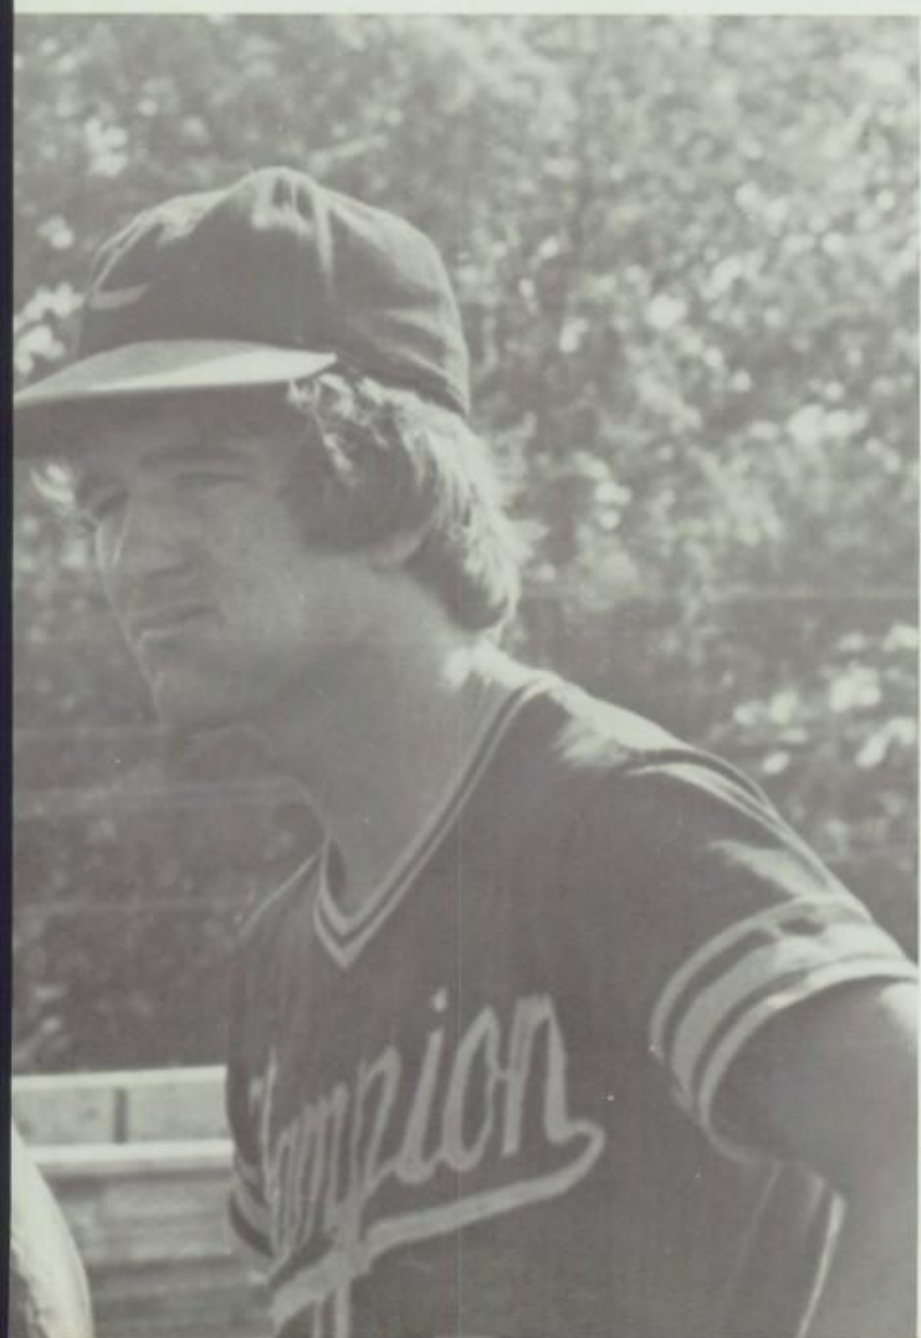

The CHS Flashes posted an 8-1-1 record to tie with Mathews for the Trumbull AA League title and were 21-4 overall. The season was very impressive with the opening game win over Niles 13-4, and the closing game over Lakeview 10-0.

This year's team and coaches worked well together. The strengths of the team were good pitching and fine teamwork. The squad boasted impressive figures as a .343 batting average with 20 homeruns and a 1.92 earned run average. The Flashes were led by the hitting of Mike Hutchison, the pitching of Dan Gross, and the defensive playing of the rest of the team. The Flashes were composed of 7 seniors and 8 juniors. Coach Thorne should have a solid base for the 1979 team.

What brand do you chew, Willie?

WORK

The two mainstays of CHS were Mike Hutchison and Dan Gross. Mike's .548 batting average, 8 home runs, and 46 runs batted in, attracted major league scouts. Dan had an earned run average of 1.18, and shut out Ashtabula Harbor and Lakeview once, Newton Falls twice.

There was good news for the fans in Trumbull County on June 2 and 3rd, for on June 2nd, the Champion Girls Softball Team defeated South Point 7-2 in class AA semi finals. On June 3rd, the Flashes defeated Springfield Northwestern 3-1 for the state crown.

Throughout the year the defense for the Flashes was excellent, enriched by the work of Marianne Thomas and Karen Novotny. Their pitching and catching skill was followed by the superior offense of the girls and brought home the Crown!

The 1978 girls' JV softball team turned out a remarkable record of 10-1. Mr. Dave Verch took the responsibility of making a winning team out of girls he had never worked with before. He proved a job well done. The team's first game against Badger was one of their toughest. Winning it in the bottom of the 7th with the bases loaded, Laurie Phillips drove in two runs. During the season: Molly Latimer batting with her helmet on backwards, Kelly Freer and Jamie Klingeman forgetting the game, Kim Cheredar's remarkable catching, and Jane Titus' excellent pitching. It all 'balled' together to spell VICTORY.

Molly Latimer has great determination to catch the ball.

NETTERS FACE AN IMPROVING SEASON

Getting better every year and facing a tougher season than ever, the Tennis team improved its record to 9-9. The new netter, Basil Polivka, proved to be an outstanding addition. Randy Ford was second in command, with John Krafcik and Kevin Cordner as the doubles team. Mr. Channing Jackson is given credit for outstanding coaching.

BOYS' N.B.A

The boys' basketball intermurals are played on Saturday mornings. In all, 12 teams are active in making the intermural games last all day, from 12:30 to 5 pm. Intermural competition is organized by Mr. John Gibson, who begins the games after the football season is completed. Mr. Gibson often officiates games, keeps the roamers out of the halls, and schedules the games.

The Knicks and Celts are tied for 1st place. As of now, the leading scorers are Dan Gross, 138; John Baker, 135; Rich Sharick, 131; and Tom Elmore, 130. The teams played seriously, except for Scott Pykare's men who were the NBA comedians.

N.B.A. GIRLS

When basketball season 'rolls a-round', many people think 'I'm not good enough to play on the team.' So their alternative is intramurals. Not as many girls participate in NBA as the boys. But for those who do play, there is never a dull moment. Every other minutes a thump can be heard, and then giggles, or a few other choice words. The league consists of 4 teams. In the fight for 1st place are the teams of Julie Karenke, Val Cambell, and Renee Thomas. Cindy Sawayda's team is hanging in there. But then, in NBA it doesn't matter who's in 1st place or last.

The CHS school year began this fall with a new sports program. A girls volleyball team, with great enthusiasm and a promising future was initiated. Under the supervision of Mrs. Gretchen Gavolas, Kim Medwick led the team with a grand total of 40 points. Following with 35 points were Karen Novotny and Marsha Smith. There is no doubt in Mrs. Gavolas' mind that the girls were off to a good start, and that the next season shows talent for an exciting year.

Looking Into The Future

The JV Football team had one of its best seasons in 1978. Finishing 4-2-1 in a season marked with hard hitting, spectacular plays and a burning desire to win, the "bumblebees" always represented the Flashes with pride and enthusiasm. The team began with a victory over Berkshire that was capped by Chuck Sellars' 65 yd. run. The "Bees" then travelled to Ashtabula to tie the score. The following week the offense dominated West Branch by 6-0. South Range edged the Flashes 13-6, but then Southington fell 22-0. Probably the hardest hitting game of the year was played against Western Reserve. The Raiders won, but toughened the JV's for a 24-6 over Liberty.

After intercepting the ball, Todd Urmson and Danny Bates prepare the way for Todd Triplett's run.

Many hours of drudgery, many hours of total commitment, and many hours of doing something while we wished we were doing something else. What was football?

Football was bruises, pulled ligaments, sore muscles, and broken bones. Why did we throw our bodies against others, try to outwit our opponents, and get mentally prepared to accept winning and losing? To survive.

When one of us had his mind set on lasting an entire season, it wasn't so hard to survive. But for the few of us who were not so devoted as we thought we were, things didn't turn out right. So we asked, "Is being a member of the team so important?"

The physical aspect of survival was present as soon as the conditioning process started. Running laps, doing calisthenics, and spending endless hours working on plays were often too much for a few.

After the season started, all those hours of practice began to take over, and our team won and lost. With each game, some of us were injured, and some were lost for the remainder of the season. Others, faced with the humiliation of losing, left us.

With the team leaders exhibiting pride to their teammates, spirit was again brought back. The team's spirit was shown on and off the field. The LaBrae game was probably the best game of our season.

Soon the season was ended. All the dedicated and surviving players were in some way honored at the banquet. And our thoughts were turned to the 1979 season.

Other players, All League first team stars were all county Randy Christie, Scott Freer, and Todd Triplett. Chris Petrilla was given the Coaches' 3 D award, and Bandit of the Year went to Dave Bailey.

Rain, Sleet, or Snow . . . Cross Country's Ready to Go!!

The Cross Country team had a totally new outlook for its 1978 season. Under the new coach, Mr. Roger Woods, the team's record improved tremendously.

The backbone of the team, sophomore Dave James, finished the season with a well known reputation among his running peers. Dave usually finished in 1st place and if not 1st, then 2nd or 3rd in his meets. He advanced from the league meet to sectionals and then to districts. With Dave's determination and ability, Champion looks forward to having him for 2 more years.

Running close behind him were Vic Wolfe, Jim Wolfe, Mark Tulanko, Bill Woodford, Jim Krafcik, Jim McNeill, and Dave Pierson.

Jimmy Wolfe shows the meaning of Cross Country running.

Determination is the name of the game for Bill Woodford.

And this folks, is a golf club.

CHAMPS!

Golf Team

Takes League

2 Yrs. Straight

The Champion Golf team captured the AA League title with a perfect 10-0 record, only to face missing the district finals by 2 strokes. The team was led by George Allen and Bob Moldovan, along with Jerry Pohmurski, Rich Sharick, Don Brooker and Bill Clark.

Seniors Control the Boards

Making it All Worthwhile

The season started with unexperienced players brought up from JV's without really playing too much varsity basketball. Dave Bradley, being the only returning player, tried hard to pull our victories but failed to Niles, Warren, and JFK.

With a little experience in their hands the Flashes rose the fans to their feet with victories against Badger, Maplewood, and Mathews. The Flashes held a three-way tie for the league title with LaBrae and Lakeview.

Many players had outstanding seasons. Dave Bradley kept the fans watching by his excellent ball handling ability. Bob Moldovan fired in his game high of 20 points against Labrae only to suffer the disappointment of losing by 3 points. Don Brooker started out the season spiking the ball out of the hands of rivals, but in the middle of the season he suffered from injury along with Scott Kuszmaul. Scott Freer also did an excellent job at the boards; Randy Ford just needed a little experience behind him before he started dazzling the opponents with fancy footwork. Paul Rumble also contributed an outstanding effort.

Between opponents, Scott Kuszmaul wings one up and over.

Who me? No way can that foul be called on Don Brooker. (below)

Scott Freer fixes his attention on the basket.

We've Got What It Takes

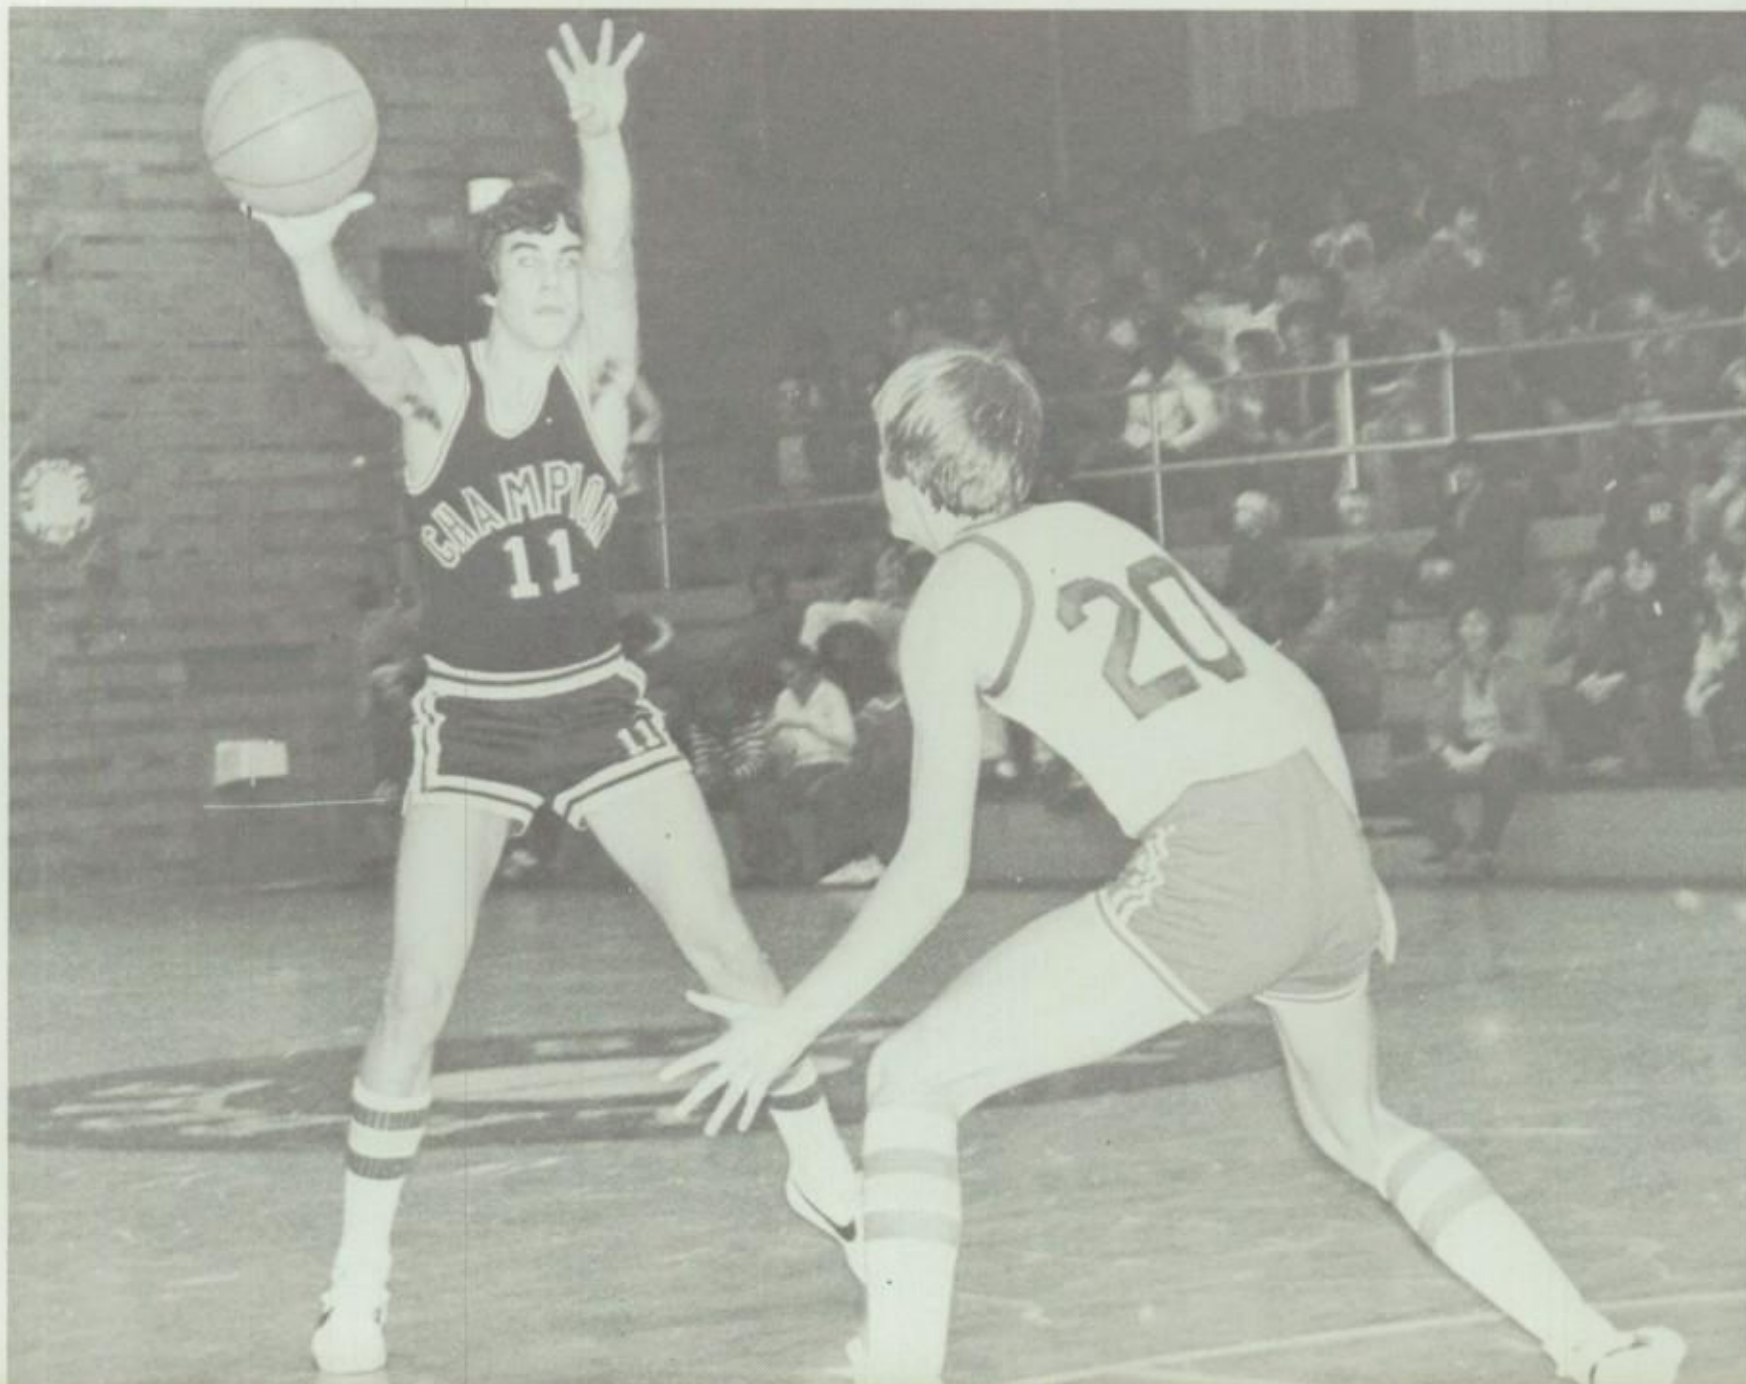

The Junior Varsity level is a place where experience and confidence are gained for the Varsity level. First year coach, Mr. Salo, primes his Flashes with the determination and pride it takes for victory. Outstanding players such as Vic Romack, Mark Barnhart, Rob Palcich, Dave Pierson, and Keith Sharick were soon moved up to Varsity level.

To the people who follow only the more glamorous scene of Varsity basketball, the JV's may be considered the 'other' team. But without the experience of playing JV, many Varsity players would be much less developed. This year's squad displayed erratic talent, going from flashes of brilliance to a comedy of errors. The JV team has done a fine job in its own right, as well as being the main hope for future Varsity squads.

Vic adds another 2 points to the score.

Greg throws quickly and accurately.

Vic Romack's ability to handle the ball was one of the team's biggest assets.

UPS-N-DOWNS for FROSH

The freshman basketball team fought hard and had many ups and downs as is the case for an inexperienced team.

Mr. Sentner during his first year at CHS coached the team of freshmen. Teamwork seemed to be the magic word. With the help of his teammates, Brad Emerine averaged 14 points per game.

Ronnie Wolfe puts his agility and his quick moves to his opponent.

League Champs

Girls Take "AA"

LAURIE JO EMERINE: pumped in the winning basket at LaBrae; ave. 8 pts. per game; high score 13 pts. against LaBrae.

DOREEN ROWLAND: ave. 15 pts. per game; high game was 14 pts. against P.V.

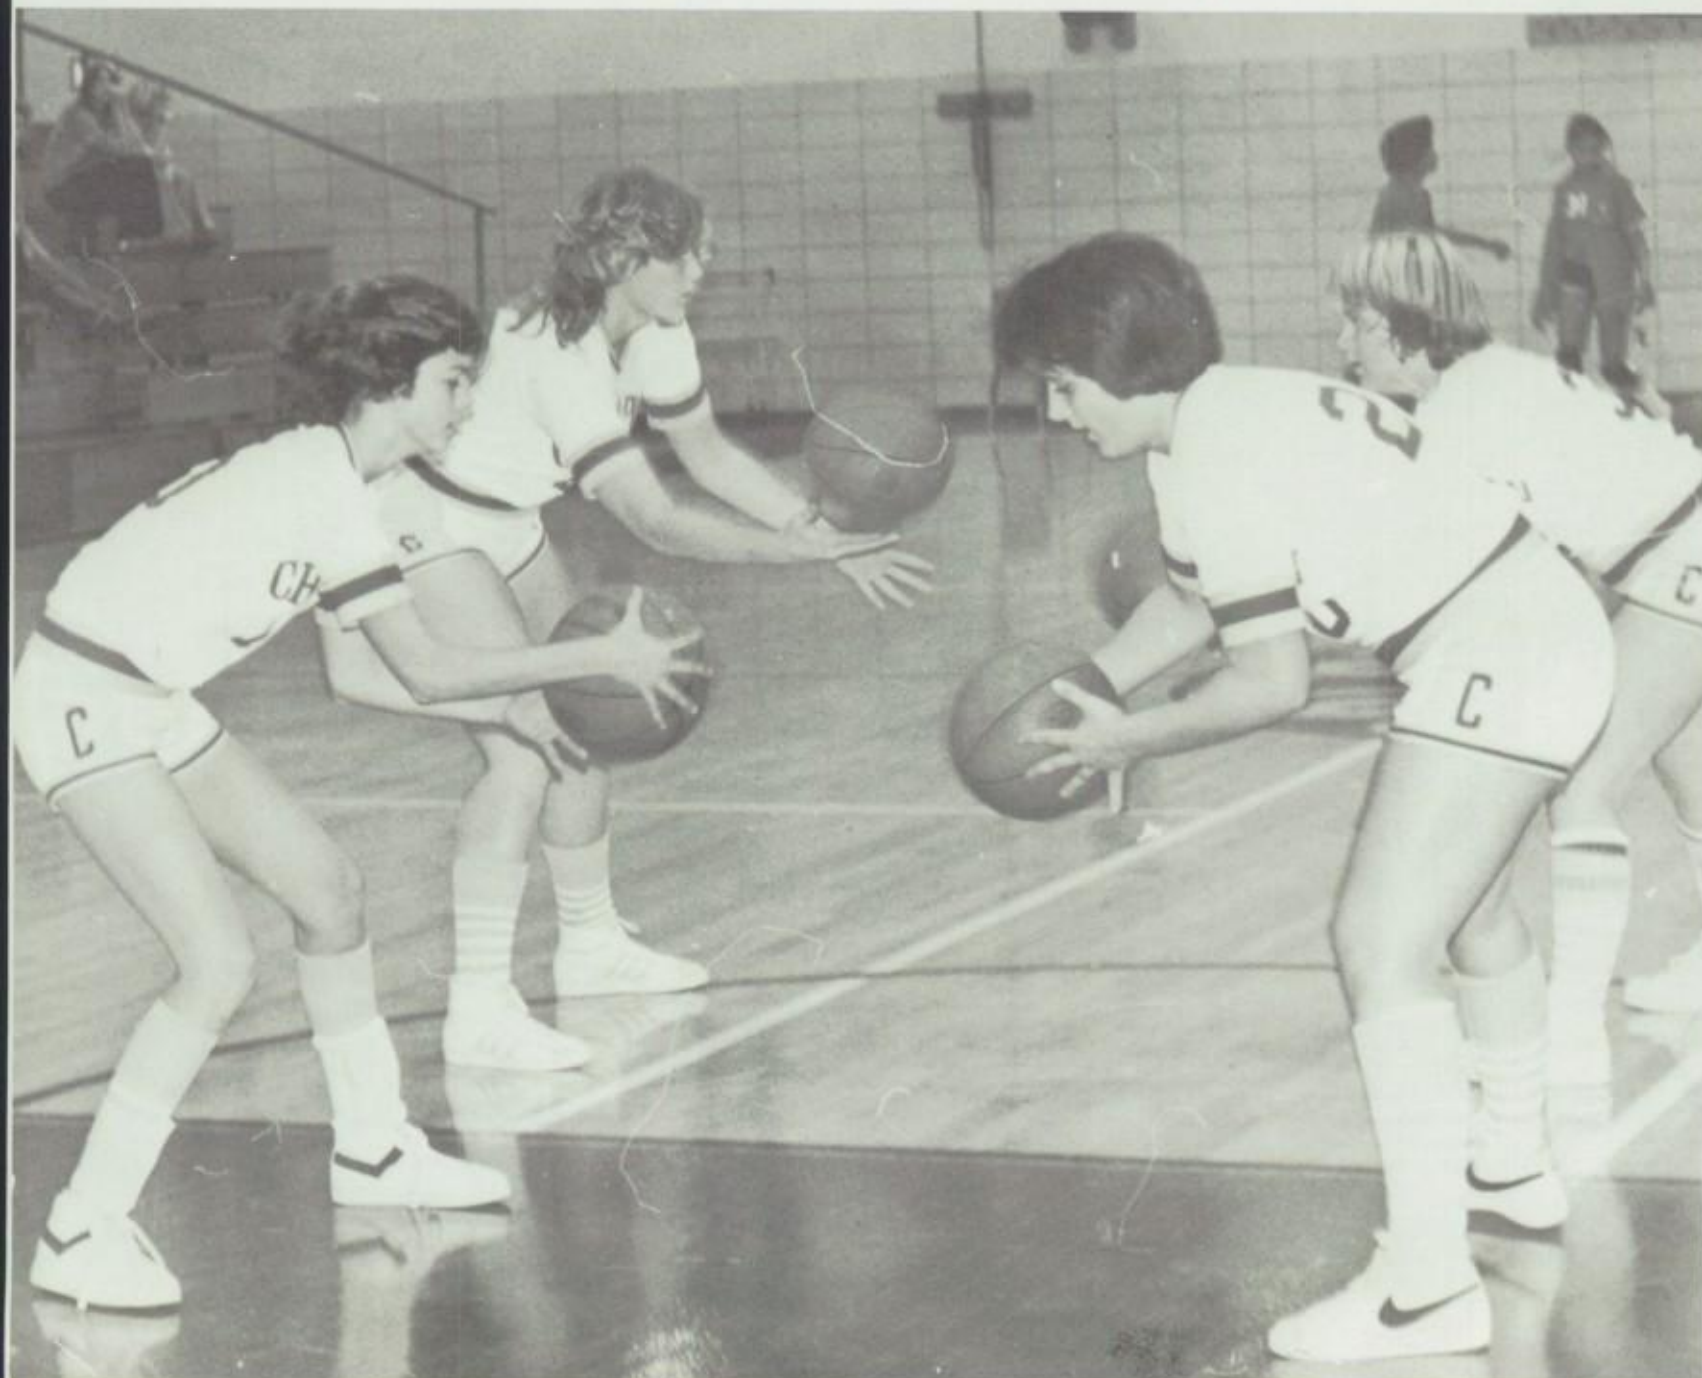

PEGGY DAVIS: ave. 9.5 pts. per game; high game was 18 pts. against Lordstown with 25 rebounds in same game.

KIM MEDWICK: brought up to Varsity; ave. 4.5 pts. per game; high game of 7 pts. against P.V; rebounded 10 baskets in the Lordstown game.

CARLA CHRISTOPHER: first game was her highest with 16 pts; ave. 9.2 pts. per game; rebounded 14 at Badger.

SUE SKAGGS: ave. 9.5 pts. per game; high game of season was 13 against Badger.

KELLY CHESMAR: leads team in scoring; ave. 13 pts. per game; high game of 24 against P.V; rebounded 11 against Lordstown.

A.P. Poll: Girls Predicted to Take All

With Peggy under the boards, there is no need for Champion fans to worry. (below)

Laurie Jo drives for a basket.

Putting the press against Maplewood led Champion toward another victory.

Mrs. Ackerman finally has had another chance for the State Championship. As of this date the girls have had their best season ever, finishing the league undefeated 15-0. Their 2 losses to Harding and Reserve were non-league games. Week after week the girls remained top in the 'AA' polls. There was no outstanding player; all worked together, doing their best. What more could be asked for? Lead—the teamwork were seniors Sue Skaggs, and Kelly Chesmar, who rebounded well and scored high. Peggy Davis always proved a challenge, while Laurie Jo Emerine's winning point against LaBrae was most dramatic. There will always be special memories about this team and players. CHS can well be proud of its girl athletes.

It takes more than 3 Badger Braves to get the ball from Kelly.

Somebody tell Becky that "it's not the time to fly."

Under the coaching of Mr. Larry King, the JV team showed great promise for the future. This was his first year to work with these girls. One of their strong points was the teamwork they displayed whether at home or on the road, at practice or a real game. Ultimately this Flashes team made progress in both individual and team playing.

Jamie Klingeman puts a move on a Lakeview defender.

We've Got . . . SPJRJT

The Varsity cheerleaders prepare for the long ride around the field.

Janet Nelson exerts some effort to do the fight song routine.

"Will you guys up there, cheer!"

Total dedication and hard work is what it takes to be a Champion cheerleader. There is much more behind cheerleading than most people suspect. Under the direction of Miss Darlene Kijowski, the cheerleaders have kept bust throughout the year. New cheers to be learned . . . after school daily practice . . . lockers to decorate . . . pep rallies. These girls have done much to boost the CHS spirit.

"Ack, I hope you're back there!" Judy goes through her practice.

"Girls, I really don't want to do that cheer." Her friends don't look very pleased with Pam.

Spirit Is What It's All About . . .

"We've got spirit; yes we do." Val Campbell yells her heart out.

"What do you think I am? The chalkboard?" Judy Miller gets decorated.

The Freshmen cheerleaders show that even they can perform difficult mounts.

"Oh darn, I broke another nail." And we thought Kim missed a cue.

While the rest of the squad is ready to go, Judy shows her usual confusion over the going-ons.

The Varsity squad displays the precision that makes their performances such a pleasure to watch.

Disa, To a girl I've known since kindergarten!
It's been a long time + I'm glad we've still been able to be good friends! I'll always remember you, mostly because you're so sweet.
I'm glad you didn't let the problems with Bob interfere with our friendship. I'm gonna miss you so much when you leave. Write if you have time. Please remember me!

Love ya, Karen (5799 Sarah NW)

As the day comes to an end, there are still things to be done. The coaches and players practice for their big games in the gym. Kevin Orsini and George Ullinsky rehearse for "Heaven Can Wait." Junior class play lines are muttered in room 10. In addition, NHS students have gone bowling, carolling, and partying at Judy Kuszmaul's.

The pep band practices for its next appearance; the cheerleaders go over their cheers and decorate lockers. The last of the teachers finishes a batch of tests. When teachers and students are finishing another day, the janitors are just starting theirs by cleaning halls and rooms. And even later the empty school buses roll in. As the long hours come to a close, most of us from CHS are home to sleep and to prepare ourselves for another day at Champion High.

Lisa baby, (soxy, cute)

You look like you would be one of the best neckers (Kissers) in the school. I hope I get to find out before you move. I would probably need arm extenders

LISA,
To a great looking girl and a great friend who
I'm going to hate saying
Good-Bye to. So you better keep in touch. Never forget all the good times we've had together.
Take Care and God Bless.

Love Always

Bill

Lisa
I'm really going to miss you when you move cause you've been such a good friend the last 2 years. I hope you remember all the good times
we's had in Band.
Good luck wherever you're going. Love

I would like to thank you for being a good friend of mine all these years. We've had a lot of fun over the years. I hope you have a good time in Mississippi. Don't forget you had 2 classes with me Bio & Ge. I'll remember them always. It's been nice knowing you & I like to see you come visit CHS next year sometime. Well I'm out to go. At least I guess I'll stop.

Love,
